Example:

I am a college student, budget-conscious, and short on time.	I'm trying to buy a book online quickly and affordably for my upcoming assignment.	But I find the website hard to navigate, the book is sometimes out of stock, and checkout takes too many steps.	Because the site doesn't have clear filters, stock updates, or guest checkout options.	Which makes me feel frustrated, anxious about missing deadlines, and less likely to return to the store.
